Ameranth Will Seek to Reverse Adverse Patent Claims Ruling in Texas

'Ameranth's ongoing second patent lawsuit is unaffected by this ruling'

September 23, 2010, San Diego — Ameranth, Inc. announced today that it plans to seek a reversal of the adverse jury ruling in its recent case against Menusoft Systems Corp. in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas. On September 20, 2010, the jury ruled that seven claims of Ameranth's three issued patents were invalid and that Menusoft did not infringe those seven claims. Ameranth believes that the jury's verdict was not supported by substantial evidence and it will thus seek a reversal from the trial Court or subsequently appeal this result.

This determination as to only seven of Ameranth's forty seven claims in the three issued patents does not impact Ameranth's ongoing second lawsuit (Case No. 2:10-cv-294 EDTX), filed on August 13, 2010, which includes Menusoft and other defendants. The unaffected claims will continue to be asserted in that case and Ameranth is confident of prevailing on those claims. Additionally, Ameranth has two additional patent applications pending in the USPTO which claim priority from the issued patents.

'We disagree with and are disappointed with the jury's decision on these seven claims, but we respect the legal process. We therefore plan to exercise our right to request that the trial Court overturn the verdict and, if need be, file an appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. We are confident of reversal because the verdict was not supported by the evidence presented by Menusoft,' stated Vern Yates, Ameranth's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer.

Ameranth has a broad and very important wireless/web patent portfolio - which it will continue to license and enforce against infringers.
